Friday, February 9th, 2024

Hello Trevor,

It was another busy week at the library. On Wednesday, over 30 children and parents came to our weekly Storytime program! Then on Thursday teenagers took over the library and made hot chocolate bombs for Teen Thursday. Several patrons also dropped in for their 3D printer appointments, making video game characters, cases for electronics, key holders, and more. If you are interested having something printed, stop by and talk with us about your project. Click here for our 3D Printer Policy.

Saturday we are having our annual Galentine's Day Party from 11 a.m. - 1 p.m.!

Next week the Mystery Book Club will meet on Tuesday afternoon. Then Tuesday at 5 p.m. our Death Cafe discussion group will meet. Wednesday morning, we have our weekly Storytime program. On Saturday, February 17th we are having our first monthly Saturday morning Storytime followed by a Brunch and Books book club for tweens and teens. See below for details.
