

Amery Area Public Library Newsletter

Friday, March 22nd, 2024

Hello Trevor,

This was a quieter week at the library. Saturday we had our monthly Brunch and Books book club for tweens and teens. They met at noon for a light lunch and to discuss the books The Swifts: A Dictionary of Scoundrels by Beth Lincoln and Wrecker by Carl Hiaasen. The books for the April meeting are A Place to Hang the Moon by Kate Albus (juvenile) and Artifice by Sharon Cameron (young adult). Wednesday our DIY Storytime program continued. Thursday night was our adult craft night - participants made macrame rainbows to celebrate the arrival of spring - and discussed the pending snowstorm :). Welcome to spring in Wisconsin!

Next week our Board has their monthly meeting on Monday at 5:45 p.m. The meeting is open to the public. Wednesday our DIY Storytime programs continues at 10 a.m. Also on Wednesday, we are having a Genealogy Work-group at 3:00 p.m. So, if you are working on your family tree or interested in starting to, come on by. Thursday at 2 p.m. our Non-fiction Book Club will be meeting to discuss books on the theme of the month - Women's History. Thursday night at 6 p.m. we are hosting a talk about our National Parks.

Thanks for reading,
the Library Staff

Spotlight: Board Game Collection

Would you like to try out a new board game before you decide if it's worth a buy? The Amery Area Public Library has a wide variety of board games available to check out and play at home. We have games ranging from classics, like Candyland and Connect Four, to newly released games, such as King of Tokyo and Ticket to Ride. Next time you stop in at the library browse our game selection and see if there is anything that you and your family might want to try out!

Next Week's Programs
