

Amery Area Public Library Newsletter

Friday, May 3rd, 2024

Hello Trevor,

This week we were pleased to welcome hundreds of students from the Amery Intermediate School (and a bunch from Lien Elementary)! Eleven groups toured the library Monday through Friday. They learned about our various collections, our services, and our programs. While the 3D printer was very popular, many kids took home books and library card applications!

Wednesday our Storytime program was held in our Vault Room on the main level. The kids enjoyed the change of venue. On Thursday, the Friends of the Library had their monthly book sale. It is typically held the first Saturday of the month and the Thursday preceding it, but this Saturday's book sale is cancelled due to the Michael Perry Author Talk. Thursday evening, our Books & Brews book club met at Amery Ale Works for their monthly book discussion. The book for June is Book Lovers by Emily Henry.

This year is the 40th anniversary of the Friends of the Amery Area Public Library! To celebrate, they have arranged for New Auburn author Michael Perry to speak. He will be at the Amery Community Center (608 Harriman Avenue South) on Saturday, May 4th at 11 a.m. The event is free, and all are invited!

Next week, we are having our weekly Storytime program on Wednesday at 10 a.m., our monthly Genealogy Class on Wednesday at 3 p.m., and Teen Thursday at 6 p.m. Have a wonderful week!
