

Hello Trevor,

It is the last day of February! March will hopefully bring warmer weather - spring begins Thursday, March 20th at 10:01 a.m.! The name of the month comes from Mars, the Roman god of war. Martius was also the first month of the earliest Roman Calendar. The flower for the month of March is the daffodil. March is Women's History Month as well as National Craft Month. Celebrate by making the women in your life a craft using Creativebug - our new crafting database which has thousands of videos on a variety of crafts.

This week we had our regularly scheduled Board of Trustees meeting on Monday, our monthly Pokémon Club meeting on Tuesday, Storytime on Wednesday, and then on Thursday we had the monthly meeting of the Non-fiction Book Club and our monthly history talk. The theme for the March meeting of the Non-fiction Book Club is "wildcard". The members of the Club could not settle on a single theme so they decided everyone should read a non-fiction book on any topic they are interested in. So, read any non-fiction book you want and join us the last Thursday of March at 2 p.m. to share what you learned. That same Thursday is History Night at the Library from 6 - 7 p.m. A local historian will give a talk about Dolly Madison.

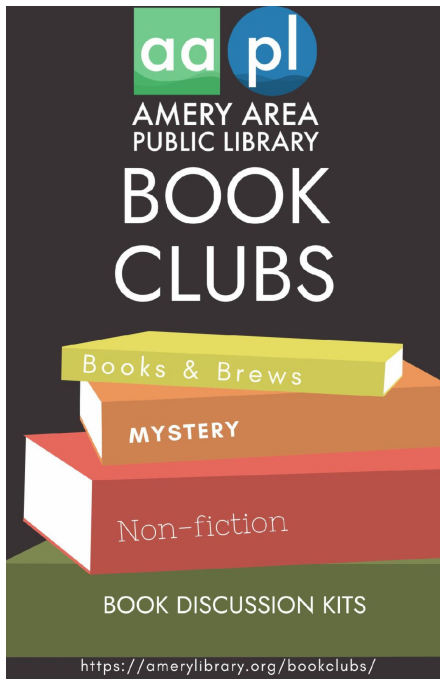

Saturday, March 1st the Friends of the Library will be having their monthly book sale from 9:30 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. Then Monday we have our Chess Club bi-weekly meeting, Storytime on Wednesday at 10 a.m., a meeting of our Adult Writing Group on Thursday, and the monthly Books & Brews Book Club Thursday at 6 p.m.

Next week we'll also be having our first meeting for our new Dungeons & Dragons group for kids! The party is currently full, but you can email enovak@amerylibrary.org for more information or to join the waitlist.

Have a great week!

Thanks for reading,
the Library Staff

Spotlight Article: Book Clubs

Have you ever wanted to join a book club, but find yourself unsure where to start? We offer three different book clubs for a wide range of interests.

If you like mysteries, our Mystery Book Club is just for you as they read a new mystery each month from both new and classic authors.

If you find yourself wanting to try out a little bit of everything, try out Books and Brews, which reads a wide variety of genres and meets at the local restaurant Amery Ale Works.

Is fiction not for you? No worries! At our Nonfiction Book Club, you can dive deeper into many different topics decided by the members of the club themselves. The Amery Area Public Library has a book club for every person and interest, so don't hesitate to check out these clubs or ask for more information the next time you stop into the library. You can also visit our book club webpage for the date of the next meetings and the title of the books that will be discussed.

If you are running your own book club, check out our selection of Book Discussion Kits. These contain several copies of a book along with discussion questions. You can select from our collection of Book Discussion Kits or put a hold on a Kit from another library. There are Book Discussion Kits for children, teens and adults. Use the button below to search for Kits and then filter the results using the Audience list (Adults, Teens, Children). To see the Kits available in Amery filter your results by "Available at" and select "Amery".
